

Managing Directors

We can help you manage your health & safety and your fleet risks with solutions that link to:

- ✓ YOUR corporate strategy & objectives
- ✓ YOUR business & commercial realities
- ✓ YOUR operational & management systems
- ✓ YOUR corporate governance controls

Why is that relevant for your business?

Would you want your business described as having a 'cavalier attitude' to managing health & safety risks for employees, customers and contractors?

Does your business just 'Tick the box'? Have you everything 'covered'?

Corporate Manslaughter legislation, increased business competition and market pressures will require you to 'do things differently', by identifying where 'management internal control failures' can cause loss, injuries, deaths, reputation loss and complete business failure.

How do we help you do that?

By creating a step change in the way you manage your risks:

1. Identify how your organisation is creating risks.
2. Identify if your health & safety and fleet systems meet your needs.
3. Identify how to merge health & safety and fleet systems into the business.
4. Integrate the results back into the business.

What are the benefits?

- Reduced costs, improved business processes, increased competitive advantage, avoidance of unlimited fines — stay in business.
- Business & commercially focused practical solutions
- Strategic pro-active risk managing advice — NOT risk averse 'tick the box'
- Reduced incidents, insurance premiums and unrecoverable losses
- Improved business efficiencies and employee morale
- Reduced management diverted time

Is it relevant for you?

Our expertise is specially relevant for:

- Large SME's & corporates
- Businesses with complex multi-site operations.
- Logistics companies & businesses with vehicle fleets.
